

Everything leaks sooner or later. When it does, make sure there's an expert on your side.

The consequences of a pollution incident are severe, not only in the form of serious fines and penalties for your business, but for the surrounding environment and community involved. From reputation to responsibility, the ripple effects of damage can take years to resolve. Our iTOO environmental experts know exactly how to handle every detail to facilitate the management, emergency response, ecological restoration and public relations protocol to ensure your business and the environment survive. If you're a responsible business, we're the expert you can trust to responsibly cover you.

Why iTOO?

At iTOO we offer South Africa's first fully comprehensive environmental cover specialising in customised, affordable products that equip you to do the right thing for your business and the environment.

We cover all forms of industries from trucks and filling stations to airports and mines. Our cover includes sudden and accidental risks as well as gradual pollution, even for existing conditions, with our bespoke offerings:

Tanksafe: for filling stations, depots and industrial properties.

Trucksafe: for hazardous or non-hazardous goods in transit.

Sitesafe: for landfill sites, mines, chemical plants and pipelines.

Propsafe: derisking M&A deals that involve potentially-polluted property

We are different

At iTOO our experts want to save you money, which is why we offer expert tailored products suited to your business and industry with specific risk criteria analysis and free risk assessment.

We have paid 100% of our claims to date.

We are the only insurer to offer a dedicated Loss Adjuster on each and every case, meaning we pass savings from claims onto you in the form of lower premiums.

Our rewards for good practice mean you can save up to 70% premium reduction for best-in-class risk management systems.

Rest easy with access to the best PR experts, a dedicated panel of clean-up contractors and a pre-approved emergency response budget of R250 000. Our panel of clean-up contractors are audited twice per year, and our selection criteria means we choose the best contractor for your incident, at the lowest cost.
